1. Installing a new boiler or furnace can save you up to 30% on your heating bills.
2. Changing filters 2-3 times per year reduces fuel consumption by 5-10% as dirty air filters in a warm air system cause improper air flow and wastes fuel.
3. Insulating duct work and heating piping in unheated areas can save 5-15% in your fuel costs.
4. Cleaning or tuning-up all fossil fuel burning heating equipment (gas, oil, coal and wood) once a year saves 5% in fuel consumption.
5. Insulating electrical outlets and installing flow restricting shower heads saves energy.
6. Adding moisture to homes with broad leaf plants increases humidity which reduces heating demand.
